

KS5 Year 13 Assessment Plan

Subject: Philosophy

Curriculum Intent:

Religious, cultural, philosophical and ethical exploration is at the heart of every academic discipline in school. An acute awareness for diversity, difference and challenge is central for humans to flourish and in all philosophical walks has the mantra of learn and enquire been central. Philosophy and Ethics is designed to challenge students to become more aware – not just of themselves, but of others and the multiple factors that affects groups around the world. From religious dress to ethical decision making, this subject is essential for a firm grounding in how the human condition works. Sixth form builds upon this with a key focus on three key areas of Philosophy and Ethics. Philosophy, Ethics and Developments in Christian thought. All three areas are worth a third of the course
